

Lockstraps reveals second-gen locking tie-downs

Publish date: Sep 2, 2010

Email | Print | Share | Save | License

Lockstraps' patent-pending Lockstrap locking tie-downs are a step-up in security from the standard S-hooks. They're made of eight-bound steel cables and double-nylon webbing, with tough rivets and a dual-combination carabiner lock, which enables users to change its combination with each use, if needed. Soft-tie extensions are also incorporated to prevent scratching.

Contact: Lockstraps, 951-506-3682, www.lockstraps.com